Description
Still implimented in the game is a hack of sorts which allows an orca or other large ship to warp in the cycle of a single MWD burst. This would be tremendously helpful for escaping rogue anti-miners in Highsec and lowsec alike, as the normal 40 second align and warp time for the orca leaves it a substantially large target on the field. All that would need to be implimented would be an Alias within the equipment section to allow the equipped MWD to be fired upon EWO.
